Baseball players of Oahu, get the links out of your arms and give that old finger mitt a good soaking, because they are on their way, the All-Nationals. They are already on the briny deep, and the official list of players who will come here are given above.

"Dutch" Leonard is not in the party. He wanted to come, but the National Commission told the California boy that he must not play under penalty of a fine. When the players participate in a series out of the playing season the powers that be may assess their bally balances, as was the case when the Boston Red Sox played in New Haven.

Janvrin Coming
Harold Janvrin of the Boston Red Sox, who was one of the stars of the series, will be seen at the keystone sack in the games here. Janvrin is one of the best known players in the country, and should be popular with the fans. Perhaps the next best known player is Louie Guisto, the Cleveland first sacker, who busted all the fences in the Pacific Coast League before Dunn signed him up.

Guisto is a St. Mary's College boy, and this is his first year in professional baseball. He jumped from school to Portland, and then burned

Local Bowlers Hammer Pins at Y; Recruits Slip One Over on First Team

The Honolulu Y. M. C. A. bowlers rolled some good games last night in the Pacific Coast Bowling League's match on the local alleys against the Sacramento, Cal., Y. M. C. A. five. The local men made a total pinfall of 2659, just 35 pins lower than last week's total against the Naval Training Station team of San Francisco.

The results of last night's match were sent by wireless to the secretary of the league and in a day or so the Sacramento results will reach here.

While the first team was rolling against the mainlanders the second team also bowled and as a result of their bowling Gear and Hall will go up to the first team with Tinker, Soares and Chamberlin. Wikander and R. E. Scott, having bowled lower than the two men promoted, go back to the second team next week.

Double centuries were rolled by Tinker, Wikander, Soares, Chamberlin. Tinker missed repeating by just one pin.

The Commercial Bowling League will occupy the Y. M. C. A. alleys tonight. The Pineapple Factors roll against the Sugar Factors. This game starts at 7:30 o'clock and some high bowling will be seen.

BASKETBALL AT Y BRINGS OUT STERLING PLAY

Basketball of a fast, snappy and sensational order was the rule last night at the Y. M. C. A. when the Senior Basketball League played off its double-header. In the first game the Reds doubled the score of their opponents, defeating the Fort De Russy five by the score of 30 to 14, and in the second game, which had to go for an extra five-minute period, the Fort Kamehameha defeated the Oahu in a sensational finish to the tune of 30 to 28.

The Kam-Oahu game was the event of the evening. It was full of pep, fast and snappy, and toward the close became spectacular and sensational in its passing and goal shooting. At the end of the second half the score stood 25 to 25 and an extra five minutes was necessary to break this tie.

Lineups of the teams:
De Russy—Best, Dorchester, r. f.; Kirstedder, l. f.; Goetz, Merriees, center; Cosgrove, l. g.; Wheeler, r. g.
Reds—Noyes, r. f.; Brush, Williams, l. f.; Johnson, center; McCrillis, Harrison, r. g.; Ladd, l. g.
Summary—Field goals, Williams 4, Noyes, Brush, 3, Best 2, Johnson, McCrillis, Harrison, Kirstedder, Wheeler; foul goals, Noyes 4, Best 3, Goetz.

Finalists in Match Thursday

Feminine players who will meet in tennis finals tomorrow afternoon at the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club courts at Kapiolani park. On left—Miss Maile Vicars, sensational 16-year-old tennis player of Hilo. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vicars and learned her tennis strokes from her parents, both of whom are good players. At right Miss Vera Beyfuss of San Francisco, who has made an excellent showing in the tournament to date. She defeated Miss Ruth Anderson, an especially good player, in straight sets, and also defeated Miss Pauline Schaefer, one of the leading tennis players of Honolulu. The match will begin at 4 o'clock. It promises to be the best ladies' match ever staged in Honolulu.

Referee, Jackson; timer, Kurzin; Farg, l. f.; Cannon, Ramirez, c.; Bar-scourer, Rousseau.
Kamehameha—Camp, r. f.; Levison, l. f.; Wilson, c.; James, r. g.; Waack, l. g.
Oahu—Haneberg, r. f.; Rodriguez, goals, Wilson 3, Haneberg 2, Camp.

FEMININE RACQUET STARS WILL MEET IN FINALS OF SINGLES ON THURSDAY

Miss Maile Vicars of Hilo Will Meet Miss Vera Beyfuss of San Francisco in Titular Match—Much Interest Being Taken in Contest—Ladies' Doubles to Begin Friday—Men's Doubles Saturday and Eklund-Lowrey Championship on Sunday

TENNIS PROGRAM

Thursday, 4 p. m.—Finals of ladies' singles.—Miss Maile Vicars of Hilo vs. Miss Vera Beyfuss of San Francisco.
Friday, 3 p. m.—First round of ladies' doubles.

Saturday, 3 p. m.—First round of men's doubles.

Sunday, 3 p. m.—Finals of men's singles.—William Eklund vs. Alan Lowrey.

Despite the fact that the finals in the ladies' singles event has been postponed, tennis enthusiasts have been waiting for the match between Miss Maile Vicars and Miss Vera Beyfuss. This year the ladies have taken the majority of praise for their work, and Honolulu enthusiasts have perhaps expressed more interest in the contest on Thursday than in the battle between Lowrey and Eklund.

Hilo Girl Wins

Maile Vicars has played excellent tennis during the tournament, and her defeat of Miss Kathryn Williams brought out much good play. Miss Williams is an excellent tennis player, and the 16-year-old tennis star deserves great credit for her victory in straight sets. Vera Beyfuss will certainly have a number of admirers, as her victories over Miss Pauline Schaefer and Miss Ruth Anderson were decisive.

Although both finalists have never appeared in a championship final, with the exception of the match at Hilo, the class of tennis has been a big improvement on that of past years, and there is certain to be a record crowd out to witness the match tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Vicars has a dangerous serve, and covers the court in an excellent manner. She can take the net when the occasion arises and in her first matches here has played her shots as a rule to the baseline. Her opponents have yet to discover a weak point, and her friends are confident that she will win out in the match with the Pacific coast girl.

Miss Beyfuss a Star

Vera Beyfuss has been playing a well rounded game with no serious faults. Her angle shots have been well played as a rule, and experience in California tennis play should count heavily in the scoring. She does not play the spectacular game that Miss Vicars does at times, but has a faculty of returning difficult shots with apparently little effort.

Alan Lowrey won his way to the finals in the men's singles by great play, and many believe that he will dethrone the island champion when they meet on Sunday afternoon. Eklund has been playing great tennis in the tournament, but the champion will hardly be a big favorite when the two finalists take the courts in a match of three out of five.

Men's Doubles

The men's doubles which will begin on Saturday will bring out a number of good teams, and the Marshall brothers of Hilo may be seen in action against the leading players on Oahu. The Castle-Eklund combination is a strong one. Hoos and Lowrey were expected of Norton and Waterhouse.

In the ladies' doubles the leading singles players of Hawaii will be seen in action, and with Maile-Vicars, Ruth Anderson, Kathryn Williams, Vera Beyfuss, Pauline Schaefer and other stars entered the play in these events should be up to the standard.

Much credit is due the committee, A. L. Castle, Alan Lowrey and H. R. Macfarlane, for the excellent manner in which the matches have been staged. Everything has been arranged according to schedule, and as a result the tennis interest has increased here. Seating arrangements have been made for the ladies' singles match on Thursday.

KANSAS CITY GETS CHURCH CONVENTION

DES MOINES, Iowa.—By unanimous vote Kansas City was chosen as the meeting place of the 1917 national convention of the Churches of Christ. The date for the meeting will be decided on later. Judge J. N. Haymaker, Wichita, Kan., was elected president of the general convention, the ruling church body.

The committee on resolutions called attention to the "settlement of Colorado Fuel & Iron Company strike by perfunctory investigation of John D. Rockefeller, Jr."
